Page 14. Paragraph 4.

The Commander-in-Chief, Navy, reports that the Japanese Admiral NOMURA had mentioned that the Japanese Navy was planning to use its submarines against merchant shipping and that it had asked Ambassador OSHIMA and Foreign Minister V. Ribbentrop to request that two German submarines be put at Japan's disposal. The Commander-in-Chief, Navy, explained that nothing would be gained in a military way by turning over the submarines, since he did not believe that they could be produced in large numbers in Japan for materials reasons.

The Fuehrer favored the idea of releasing one submarine to the Japanese because we had to make return-shipments for the rubber. If we found it difficult to carry out these return-shipments in high grade steel and finished products, such as machine tools, it would be easier to deliver a submarine. He will not decide the matter until the demand has taken a more concrete form.
